

For a quick yet relaxing wine country weekend, consider staying in Yountville, a charming town nestled in the heart of Napa Valley between Rutherford and St. Helena. Yountville offers a peaceful atmosphere with convenient access to a variety of fine dining options and accommodations, all within walking distance of numerous winery tasting rooms.

The itinerary begins with an afternoon flight into SFO, followed by renting a car at the airport. You'll then drive up Highway 101 to 37, and continue North on Highway 29, Napa's main route. Once you arrived at your hotel in Yountville and park, you'll only need your car for a 10 a.m. Saturday winery appointment. Afterward, it's recommended to return to Yountville, park at your hotel, and enjoy walking to lunch and two afternoon winery visits, so you won't need to worry about driving.

Recommended Hotels:

- Inexpensive, quiet, secluded, 5 rooms (3 stars): Petit Logis is a charming inn nestled in the heart of Yountville, situated between Hurley's and Bouchon Bakery. Despite its central location, it feels secluded, and once you step through the gate, you forget you're in the middle of town. It's a hideaway, offering quick access to tasting rooms, restaurants, and early morning balloon rides. It's incredibly convenient while providing a serene spot to sit on the porch and enjoy a glass of wine.
- On site restaurant, pool, spa, garden, 62 guest rooms (5 stars): Bardessono Hotel, located in the heart of Yountville, California, is a luxurious, eco-friendly retreat that seamlessly blends modern elegance with sustainability. This LEED Platinum-certified hotel offers spacious, sophisticated suites featuring organic linens, private courtyards, and lavish bathrooms. Guests can indulge in farm-to-table dining at the on-site restaurant, Lucy, which emphasizes fresh, local ingredients. The hotel also boasts a rooftop pool, serene spa, and beautiful gardens, providing a tranquil escape in Napa Valley. With impeccable service and a commitment to environmental stewardship, Bardessono is a premier destination for those seeking a refined and sustainable luxury experience.
